Neilsen, Hills and Wilton
Get Degrees; Galiger
Places in Judging

Honors in agricultural judging and general farming ability were won by four Antioch High School students at the vocational agriculture meetings held at the University of Illinois at Urbana last week-end.

Paul Neilsen, Kenneth Hills and Ward Wilton were awarded the degree of state farmer, at the fifth annual convention of the Illinois Association of Future Farmers of America. This is the highest honor which the state association can confer upon its members for outstanding accomplishments in agriculture.

Galiger Wins Judging
The fourth boy to win an honor was Bertrand Galiger who placed fifth in the fourteenth annual state vocational agriculture judging contest. Antioch was represented in this contest by a full team in all divisions. A total of 185 teams from all parts of the state were entered in the contest.

The boys who made the trip with Bertrand are Glenn Griffin, and Harry Halloran on the fat stock team; Howard Bonner, Clarence Galiger and Howard Wells, dairy cattle; Edward Panske and Everett Trux, poultry team; Owen Christensen and Paul Neilsen, grain team; Harold Edwards, Orville Hawkins, corn team.

The degree of state farmer, conferred upon Neilsen, Wilton and Hills, has been awarded to nine Antioch boys out of the Future Farmer's entire membership since its organization. Homer Edwards, Kenneth Denman and William Neilsen have received the degree in past years. The number elected to this honor is limited to 2 per cent of the state membership. Only two other chapters in the state had as many members chosen for the distinction as were chosen among the Antioch students.

Juniors Win Degree
The three boys chosen for the honor are juniors and will return to school next year, giving them the opportunity to try next year for the highest honor in the future farmer or American Farmer. Four boys can be organization which is the degree of chosen in the state for this degree during the year.

Homer Edwards and Kenneth Denman are Antioch boys who have received this honor in the past years. Requirements for the degree of State Farmer are student leadership, high scholarship and outstanding farm projects. Members from 231 chapters are eligible for the distinction. In the judging contest, a total of 1745 boys were entered.

Earl Smith To Address Lake County Farmers

Pres. of State Ag. Ass'n.
Coming to Grayslake
June 30

The Lake County Farm Bureau has been particularly fortunate in securing Earl C. Smith, president of the Illinois Agricultural Association, to address the farmers of Lake County on Friday evening, June 30, at the grade school auditorium at Grayslake.

President Smith is one of the outstanding leaders of organized agriculture in the United States. It was through his untiring efforts together with other organized agricultural organizations that the farm bill was passed after a twelve year battle.

Every farmer and business man in Lake County is extended a cordial invitation and urged to put forth every effort to attend this meeting and hear Earl Smith discuss the farm relief measure and the progress of farm organizations.

In connection with this evening there will be a wedding gown review put on by the Lake County Home Bureau units. Each Home Bureau unit will be scored separately on a scale of points. The gowns worn in 1930 or before will be given 100 points, gowns from since 1931 will receive 10 points and so on according to the score card. This wedding gown review is a forerunner of a showing of the styles of a century which the Home Bureau is planning on later in the season.

W. J. Swayer, president of the Lake County Farm Bureau, says that there will be music by the 4-H club orchestra and the Elia Merry-Makers in addition to the address by President Smith and the wedding gown review.

Heavy Rains Apparently Aided the Plants in the Lakes

Lotus flower beds of Grass Lake, Fox Lake and Platakee Bay, promise to be larger than ever this year, if the predictions of week-end visitors who watch annually for the sight, are to be given credence.

At Grass Lake, the huge beds are reported to already cover many acres, indicating the success of this year's crop. At McHenry it is reported that the plants already have begun to grow, spreading out their leaves at this early date. The recent high water due to spring rains appears to have aided the plants.

Wags Suggested Jericho, So Serious Fathers Took the Name of Antioch

That the choice of the name, "Antioch," for this township and village resulted from suggestions, made by the more frivolous element in the settlement back in the middle of the nineteenth century and taken seriously by the more serious community fathers, is no longer generally known.

More than eighty years ago, Antioch, then a nameless settlement comprising a store or two, a blacksmith shop, a church and several homes, was acquiring considerable notoriety in its search for a name, according to a "Past and Present History of Lake County," published in 1877.

Because the village lay in Bristol precinct, it was first suggested that it take the name of Bristol, but the suggestion was over-ruled by the major-

Seventy-Eight Enroll in Methodist Church

Five Teachers Give Religious Instruction
Week-Days

An enrollment of seventy-eight children of Grade school and preschool age was reached in the second week of the church school being conducted week-days at the Methodist Episcopal Church under the supervision of the Rev. Philip T. Bohl.

A corps of five teachers was secured this year for carrying out the program which church officials were forced to abandon last year because of the difficulty of securing voluntary service for instruction. The classes grouped for the various ages, are held from 9:30 to 11:30 o'clock on week day mornings, five days in the week. The daily program opens with worship services, followed by class religious study after which there is a recess. A music period comes after the intermission and the school closes each day with instruction in handwork.

Channel Lake Sunday school is included in the enrollment. Classes are taught by Miss Mary Stanley, kindergarten class; Mrs. Vivian McGlynn, second and third grade pupils; Miss Vivien Thies, fourth and fifth grade; Mrs. G. A. Whitmore assisted by Mrs. Rose Miller, sixth, seventh and eighth grades. The school will end next week.

VILLAGE BUDGET IS PARED $984 FOR '33 BY DADS

Biggest Reductions Made in Salary and Building
Repair Funds

Reductions in the salary, printing, public building and bond and interest funds, resulted in a general slash of almost $1,000 in the budget for 1933-34 village expenditures as compared with the appropriation of 1932-33, it is revealed in the annual appropriation ordinance passed by the board of trustees.

More than half the cut which totaled in exact figures, $984, came out of the salary funds for which $4,000 was allowed in 1932 and only $3,500 in the 1933 budget. A considerable reduction was made also in the allowance for the repair of public buildings which was raised to $500 last year and is dropped this year to the sum of $150, the figure allowed in the 1931 appropriation.

Printing and office supply expenses which were cut $50 last year, were reduced another $100 this year, leaving a sum of $100 available for this purpose in the ensuing village fiscal year.

Appropriation for the bond and interest retirement fund, set at $1,568 in 1932 was pared to $1,484 by the board this year. The 1932 allowance represented an increase of $22 over the sum allowed in 1931.

Amounts set for extra labor and services, election expenses, operating costs of village rooms, street lighting, water department operating costs, sewage maintenance, the fire department, maintenance of streets, public benefit, contingent, library and fire department funds, remained the same as those in the 1932 budget.

The budget of last year showed an increase over the year before of $222, which was the result of the $350 addition to the public building maintenance fund which has been reduced this year, and a one hundred dollar addition to the fire department expenses. The fire department allowance, which was $800 in 1931, remains at $900 in the 1933 budget.

The largest reduction in the expenses of any department made by the budget of 1932 was in the library funds which were slashed $200, being reduced from $700 to $500. The library fund remains at $500 this year.

At the time of last year's appropriation, the board experienced considerable difficulty in holding down the budget and at the same time allowing for the repairs and improvements which were necessary at the village hall.

Beebe Testifies in Case of Armstrong, Alleged Suicide, of Cross Lake

Dr. H. F. Beebe was called to Chicago Wednesday to testify in the case of the Armstrong estates suing the Travellers' Insurance Co. E. E. Armstrong, who was found dead in April of 1930 in his garage at his Cross Lake home by L. M. Hughes who called Dr. Beebe. The garage was locked and the death was due to carbon monoxide gas.

Suicide, although indicated by the circumstances, has never been proven. Armstrong, a man of 50 years of age, was connected with a school supply house in Chicago. No motive for suicide could be given at the time although he had apparently lost interest in his customary pursuits. The heirs to his estate are suing the insurance company for the money which has never been paid on the grounds that death was met by suicide.

County Marriages and Divorces Show Drop

Marriages and divorces both took a drop in Lake County in 1932, figures compiled by the census bureau reveal.

In the whole year there were 4,815 marriage licenses issued, compared with 5,156 the previous calendar year. The county was second to Cook county, however, in Illinois, for its total of marriages, Rock Island being third.

A drop of fourteen divorces in Lake County was recorded for the year, the total being 199, compared to 1931's 214. In this respect, Lake County was seventh in Illinois, Cook being first with 4,132.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Douglas were guests of Dr. and Mrs. Williams last week-end.

SCOUT MOVEMENTS

With adjustment to life, a prime requisite to contented lives, sociologists and educationalists are increasingly concerned with preparing our youth for the future in which they must make their adjustments. At frequent intervals they come forth with the conclusion that simplicity and monotony rather than excitement provide the most propitious surroundings for the growth of a healthy young mind.

Contact with the out of doors, rather than frequent trips to the circus, is by many authorities of today believed to be as much better for the growing boy and girl, as is a bread and butter diet better than candy and cake.

The Boy and Girl Scout and similar movements, with their programs which teach a knowledge of wood lore and out of doors enjoyment have long been accepted as aids to good health and physical development. That the tastes which they cultivate are helpful in mental health has been given little thought until the last few years.

Camping trips with their long days passed in the country, filled with instructive play and companionship, offer opportunity for development which no other environment can offer. The work which is carried on under the leadership of the Scout movements, through the benefits it offers the child, is a benefit to the community. Community leadership in these activities deserves commendation as much as does leadership in adult projects.

1933'S ADVENTURE

Precasts that we moderns have come too jaded to find the marvels of a world exposition sufficient incentive to travel half way across the continent, are being constantly disproven by the steady stream of cars and traffic by rail which is bringing persons from Canada, from Texas, from Maine and California as well as foreign lands, wide-eyed and eager, just as the classic beauties of the first Chicago World's Fair brought another generation.

Driving along with dust covered license plates which belong to all states of the union, they are coming in streams from all directions, schoolteachers on their vacations, married couples whose children have grown up, those who saw the last fair, and those who will see the next, all filled with enthusiasm and curiosity.

A woman from Colorado, driving all the way through alone, stopped at an Antioch filling station last week. Sometimes they come in crowds, sometimes alone or in twosomes, but alike, no matter where their starting points or what their mode of travel, they are eager to see 1933's adventure in showmanship.

Monday 715 Texans arrived in Chicago by train. In two weeks, the Pullman company had a one hundred per cent increase in its business, and traffic which called for 400 extra cars. Up to the present, fair statisticians are inclined to think that a larger number of the sightseers have come from the south and the southwest than from the north and east.

Expenditures at the fair are averaging $1.25 a person, for a day of sightseeing. Some are spending more and some less. To the thousands who are thronging to see the Century of Progress, the exposition offers the hope of adventure and the possibility of inspiration. Both are needed in today's humdrum world.

START DRIVING NAILS

In an editorial concerning the renovizing campaigns that have found a welcome in a multitude of American communities, the Saturday Evening Post says: "When a city or a town makes a united effort to improve the local employment and business situation, it also builds up its own confidence. There is less uncertainty and apathy when everybody pitches in to stimulate work of such a useful kind. . . . It is nothing but good local business. But its greatest benefit will come when it is adopted by practically all the cities and towns in the country. The slogan of the renovize movement is a simple one, but for that very reason it is capable of having a far-reaching effect. The slogan is: 'If a man drives a nail he helps business.'"

There is another good slogan, too, and that one is: "Employment and investment are cheaper than charity." One of the main purposes of renovizing campaigns is to provide the unemployed with productive work—as distinct from work which is not necessary, and is given more or less as charity. During the past three years millions of structures—hotels, warehouses, business buildings and residences—have been allowed to run down. Their owner have taken the attitude that economy came first—that they would spend as little as possible until they could see what was coming. To permit them to go on longer without repairs is the most prodigal kind of luxury. True economy is to protect the investment they represent by making improvements and repairs now—when they can be had at rock-bottom prices.

It's time to start driving nails.

School's out! Thousands of children all over the country are pouring forth from the classrooms to spend their days out of doors during the summer months. It's time for motorists to be more alert than ever—unless they are, many of these children will be injured or even killed as they traverse the streets and highways to fields and playgrounds.

The schools have done a fine job training youngsters to watch out for themselves. In consequence, when the statistics of adult and child pedestrian accidents are compared, the children are shown to be better. They are more safety conscious.

In spite of this good work, 3,400 boys and girls between the ages of five and fourteen were killed last year and 152,550 were injured, according to the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters.

Drivers, give these youngsters the right of way; drive slowly and cautiously through residential districts; and watch out for the child who darts out from behind a parked car. Every daylight hour should be a safety hour now that school is closed. Help to reduce child fatalities, and give the kids a break!

A general cut in wages of all section men and all unskilled laborers has been ordered by the railroads extending west from Chicago. This is the first wage reduction made by the western roads and is considered in some quarters as the first step in a general wage cut. The reduction in the case of most section men is from $1.35 per day of ten hours to $1.25.

Because Parker H. Sercombe insists upon appearing in public minus his trousers, the official ban has been placed on him by the Spirit Fruit Home Colony near Ingleside. He is not welcome at the place in his pink pajamas. The breach of etiquette committed by him at the Walt Whitman banquet at the Washington Restaurant one month ago, when he appeared in pajamas, is the act responsible for his ostracism by the colonists.

Miss Bertha James on Friday last completed the academic course of instrumental music at the American Conservatory of Music in Chicago. She was one among a class of 300 to graduate at this time. She has received an offer to act as accompanist for the vocal teacher in the Chicago Musical college, but is as yet undecided as to her plans for the future.

A short time ago William Hancock offered to donate the use of his vacant store building in North Antioch to the ladies of that vicinity if they wished to fit it up as a sewing room for Red Cross work. His offer was quickly accepted and Mrs. William Cassidy was given charge of that branch of the Antioch auxiliary. Tables and chairs were loaned by near neighbors and a long cutting table was arranged from what had formerly been a counter in the store. Four sewing machines were taken from the main Red Cross room, and after a thorough overhauling by Mrs. Cassidy, were placed in the new work room in first class running order.

Newspaper Ads

An indication of the improvement in business conditions is cited in the increase of 20 per cent in newspaper advertising lineage during the month of April as shown in a report of current business conditions by the commerce department. Magazine advertising also showed a gain during the month, with a rise of 7 per cent, according to the report.

In contrast to this the expenditures for radio advertising showed a decline of 29 per cent during the same period.

Production and distribution indexes continued an upward trend during May and business activity showed improvement over the corresponding month in the preceding year for the first time since 1929.

Newspaper Ads Are An Aid to Banking

Bankers of the United States should take inspiration from President Roosevelt's action in restoring confidence in banks through his radio address last March and "carry on an educational campaign through advertising," A. R. Gruenwald, advertising manager of the Marshall & Isley bank of Milwaukee, urged in an address before the American Institute of banking in Convention at Chicago.

He declared through such a campaign banks would do much to rebuild their business.

He asserted that banks which advertise hold a distinct advantage over nonadvertisers, and he pointed out that those institutions using newspaper space most judiciously have shown the greatest growth.

Motors Building at Fair Described as Shaft of Gold in Night Lighting

Chicago, June 22.—"The General Motors Building rears its bulk aloft, a giant shaft of gold," says one writer describing the magnificent panorama of the Century of Progress Exposition by night. With the Fair but a few days old, the General Motors Building is recognized as one of the most thrilling spectacles at night.

Three hundred and fifty flood and projector lamps bathe the orange, yellow, red, silver and blue building. The orange-gold tower is the focal point of attention, rearing its 177 foot height conspicuously into the many-hued heaven created by the genius of Joseph Urban, supervisor of color and lighting for the Century of Progress.

Exterior lighting of the General Motors Building alone consumes enough electricity per night to pump water for a city of 25,000 inhabitants, or to provide home and street lighting for a city of 7,500 inhabitants. An average of two million, three hundred thousand watts of electricity a day is used. Monthly consumption amounts to sixty-nine million watts. This is equal to 92,000 horsepower a month.

Approximately three times this amount of current is consumed in the interior of the giant structure for power in the Chevrolet-Fisher Body assembly plant and other action exhibits and to light the seven main rooms.

State Health Director Warns Against "Dipped Milk"

Dr. Frank J. Jirka, Director of the Department of Public Health of the State of Illinois, has released the following communication to officials of Cook County cities:

"Public health is being endangered and the milk pasteurization plant law is being violated in municipalities in Illinois by the sale of 'dipped milk' alleged to be pasteurized."

"By 'dipped milk' is meant milk that is dipped or drawn from a can or other container and placed in containers of various kinds for distribution to the consumers. There is possibility of pasteurized milk becoming recontaminated when it is transferred to other containers outside the pasteurization plants."

"The Illinois milk pasteurization plant law requires that pasteurized milk be delivered to the consumers in the containers in which it is placed at the pasteurization plants. The law also requires that pasteurized milk be placed in containers washed, rinsed and sterilized by some efficient means approved by the Department of Public Health. The department does not approve the sterilization of containers outside of pasteurization plants."

"Many persons undoubtedly buy 'dipped milk' believing that it is pasteurized and therefore safe, and do not realize the hazards of recontamination by disease carriers."

"The anticipated large attendance at the Century of Progress Exposition makes every precaution for the protection of health necessary. An outbreak of communicable disease might have widespread and devastating results."

Sales Talk
In one of the city's department stores the other day a man approached a perfume booth where a clerk was trying to make a sale. After some persuasive talk she said: "Would you like to see some of the odors?"—In-Annapolis News.

Economize With Less Expensive Meat Cuts

By Jane Rogers

IT is not necessary to buy the most expensive cuts offered by the butcher, to provide a delicious meat dish for the heavy meal of the day. Less expensive cuts can be turned into a feast if properly prepared, and in their preparation the secret of success lies largely in the seasoning.

Salt, pepper and sugar—all come into play. Do not be surprised by the mention of the sugar. Most housewives are familiar with the functions of salt and pepper. The sugar is an added culinary secret that has been known for many years to foreign chefs and cooks, and is now rapidly gaining favor with the American housewife. Used as a seasoning, in quantities not large enough to sweeten, the sugar blends and points up the other flavors, giving to the whole a new subtle goodness that creates a dish with an added appetite appeal.

Here is a recipe, calling for one of the less expensive cuts which, with proper seasoning, becomes a savory morsel.

Savory Roast
4 pounds chuck roast
2 large onions
pinch of sage
1½ teaspoons salt
1 can tomatoes
2 tablespoons sugar
1½ cups boiling water

Rub the meat with salt and sage. Cut onions in medium slices and spread over top of meat in roaster. Mix sugar with tomatoes and pour over meat. Take boiling water and pour in roaster. Place in oven for four and one-half hours at a temperature of 275 degrees.

Hickory People Attend Funerals

Mrs. Irving Buried at Millburn; Miss Webb at Waukegan

Joe Smith, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Savage and Mrs. Nettie Wells, attended the funeral of Miss Lelah Webb in Waukegan, Friday afternoon.

Many of the neighbors and old friends attended the funeral of Mrs. John Irving, Sr., held in Millburn church, Monday afternoon, June 19.

Mrs. Lilly Mathews and son, Herbert, of Kenosha were supper guests at the George Tillotson home Wednesday evening.

Miss Shirley Hollenbeck of Waukegan spent Thursday with the home folks.

Miss Edna Pedersen visited last week with relatives in Kenosha. Mrs. Nelle Michaels and children of Kenosha visited Sunday at Leo Carney's.

Dorothy Carney is visiting with cousins in Kenosha this week.

Mrs. Woodbury of Hebron called at the A. T. Savage home Saturday. Mrs. Emily Mann returned home with her for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Neils Gussasson of Chicago visited Sunday at Hugo Gussasson's.

Mrs. Joe Gonyou and daughters of Waukegan spent Monday at Paul Protine's.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bishop, Homer, Malcolm and Eloise of Kenosha, visited Monday evening at George Tillotson's.

A Necessary Detail

In the early days of the World War the officer in charge of a British post, deep in the heart of Africa, received a wireless message from his chief. "War declared. Arrest all enemy aliens in your district."

A few days later the chief received this communication:

"Have arrested seven Germans, three Belgians, four Spaniards, five Frenchmen, a couple of Swedes, an Australian and an American. Please inform me whom we are at war with."

Dairy Day Features Color Organ and Puppet Shows

The Dairy Building will be the central point of attraction for children as well as adults on Friday, June 23, when Dairy Day will be celebrated with the formal presentation of the color organ in the Century of Progress Dairy Building, and a continuous puppet show in the Dairy Theater, about "Why the Cow Jumped Over the Moon," not to mention calves on view in the "back yard," an unusual sight for many city children.

The puppet shows, calves, children's parade and many other features can all be enjoyed by the youngsters for only a nickel, as Friday is Children's Day when they are admitted to the World's Fair grounds for five cents. The Dairy Building itself is free to everyone at all times.

The ceremonial program built around the color organ will be one of the most impressive events of the day, appealing especially to adults. This organ or Clavilux, which is the central spectacle in the Dairy Building, projects all the colors of the rainbow on the world's largest theatrical screen, as part of the dramatic pageant telling the story of milk through the ages. The Clavilux is hailed as the most important development in the show world since the arrival of the talkies, and can be seen at the Fair only in the Dairy Building.

One of the best paying advertising investments is Classified ads. Inexpensive—but they get results.

Promotion Costs

"Don't you think, doctor, you've rather overcharged for attending Jimmy when he had the measles?" "You must remember, Mrs. Brown, that includes 22 visits."

"Yes, but you forget that he infected the whole school!"

Grand!

"Baswell got two thousand dollars for his story. Wasn't that splendid?" "Two grand for words!"

It Has That Effect

An ant was gazing longingly at the carcass of a dead horse when a rum runner's car passed. A case of liquor bounced off the car and the bottles broke. The ant immediately proceeded to quench his thirst. Then, grabbing the horse by the tail, he shouted lustily, "Come on, big boy, we're going home!"

Fairly Healthy

"Wealth is only a disease," says a social critic. Except for a slight cold now and then, we have been in fairly good health all year.—Toledo Blade.

Iced Drinks Not Harmful Says Authority

The fact that ice-cold drinks are not harmful unless swallowed too hastily is welcome news at this season of the year. Dr. Walter H. Eddy, Ph. D., Director, Good Housekeeping Bureau of Foods, Sanitation and Health, says "I cannot find anything to preach against in our national preference for cold drinks." He explains that by taking iced drinks slowly the liquid is tempered before reaching the stomach, thus avoiding the harmful results that might follow if the stomach were given a sudden cold shock.

Although carbonated beverages, properly made with pure ingredients are healthful, Dr. Eddy warns against too highly sugared drinks, because they increase thirst instead of quenching it.

Milk, buttermilk, and fruit juices should be summer drink leaders because they supply food needs as well as quenching temporary thirst. Milk of course is rich in proteins, minerals, vitamins; most fruit juices are good sources of iron and other minerals, as well as vitamins and easily assimilated sugars, while buttermilk is an especially desirable summer drink because it is an excellent preventive for intestinal troubles which are more apt to occur in warm weather than in cool.

A COMPANY THIRTY YEARS OLD

Last Friday the Ford Motor Company completed 30 years of automobile making.

It is also my fortieth year at the same job. I made my first engine in 1893, and it still runs. This is the engine that won the Selden Patent Suit—which took the motor car out of the exclusive class, and opened the automobile industry to hundreds of manufacturers who started during the last 30 years.

Some of the men who began with me that June day in 1903, are working here yet. All of the principles we laid down then, are still operative; we find that they have great survival value for the future. To date they have produced and sold over 21,000,000 Ford cars.

Although we created the automobile market we have never thought it was good for anyone to monopolize it. We have always believed that before business could be good for one, it must be good for all. Our discoveries and improvements have always been open to other manufacturers without patent restrictions.

Of course, there is one thing we cannot share—everyone must get it for himself—and that is experience. Money could duplicate our buildings and machines, but it cannot duplicate 40 years of experience. And it is experience that makes a motor car.

But the past does not especially concern me; it has all been a preparation for the future. For myself, I feel that I have just been gathering the tools to do something worth while, and that my real task is still ahead.

Great changes are upon the world. False ideas of every kind are vanishing in the general upheaval. Those who built truly on principle will survive—their service will carry over. Business integrity and commodity honor will be fully justified. And newer and better ways of living will appear.

That is the outlook for this young thirty-year old Company of ours.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 18.

The Golden Text was, "Hearken unto me, O Jacob and Israel, my called; I am he; I am the first, I also am the last. Mine hand also hath laid the foundation of the earth, and my right hand hath spanned the heavens; when I call unto them, they stand up together" (Isaiah 48:12, 13).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth. And the earth was without form, and void; and darkness was upon the face of the deep. And the Spirit of God moved upon the face of the waters. And God said, Let there be light; and there was light" (Genesis 1:1-3).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The creative Principle—Life, Truth, and Love—is God. The universe reflects God. There is but one creator and one creation" (p. 502).

CHANNEL LAKE COUNTRY CLUB NEWS

The golf course of the Channel Lake Country Club is again in fine shape, and those who have played on it are most enthusiastic over the condition of the fairways and the greens. For a nine hole course, there is no more attractive one around the countryside. Being able to get such excellent food on the premises is an added attraction this year.

As announced in last week's issue, the first card party of the season, for the ladies, will be held next Tuesday, preceded by a luncheon at one o'clock. It is earnestly requested that all the former members of the Ladies' Auxiliary will convene for a short business meeting at twelve o'clock sharp, to discuss a few matters of great importance. Will all former members please take note, as no notices will be sent out.

Mrs. Henry Paulsen is visiting her mother in Kansas City this week, and next week the family leave for a short stay at their home in the North Woods, to return about the Fourth of July.

Mrs. Charles W. Lavin of Channel Lake has opened her cottage for the season, and her husband, the former president of the club, is enjoying a week's vacation, playing plenty of golf.

Better Breakfasts

THERE are many breakfasts served in this country for which it is not worth while waking up at all, but it is worth while waking up early to eat a better breakfast like the one we are going to suggest. The strawberry season is here, and all you need to add is powdered sugar to make a delicious start to the meal. Then, for variety, forget the eggs, and serve some of the creamed codfish that is so highly esteemed all along the New England coast. They know what they're talking about and tasting, those New Englanders. But here's the whole menu:

Strawberries with Powdered Sugar
Creamed Codfish on Toast
Fried Potatoes
Corn Dodgers
Coffee Peach Preserves

After a breakfast like that, you're ready to do battle with the world. Here's the recipe for the main dish.

It Tastes Like More

Creamed Codfish on Toast: Make a white sauce of four tablespoons butter, four tablespoons flour, three cups milk and salt and pepper. Add the contents of a one-pound can of codfish and heat. Add one beaten egg yolk (reserving the white for other uses), and serve on toast. This will serve eight people, even if they eat a lot, which they will.

Be sure to serve fresh coffee, which is a synonym for serving one of the brands that is vacuum packed. They are as fresh the day they are opened as they were the day they were sealed in vacuum.

New Discoveries in an Old Business

Long before farmers realized it, egg handlers were convinced that the kind of feed the hens received had a marked influence on the quality of the eggs produced. Since the egg is made from feed, it is only natural that the character of the finished product should be affected by the kind of raw material used.

To find a complete ration which would produce the finest quality of eggs and at the same time meet the practical requirements of egg production has been the object of five and one-half years of research at the Purina Experimental Farm and Purina Biological Laboratories. The result is a new quality egg producing mash recently announced.

The hens themselves were made to tell by the kind of eggs they produced just what ingredients and how much of each should go into this new quality egg producing feed. The experiments were started with 20 pens of pullets early in 1927. Month after month these tests, trying out every practical combination of feedstuffs, were continued. In all, 3,500 hens were used. At first the trials were limited to hens in laying houses. Later, some of the birds were kept in laying batteries.

An example of one of the practical results of the tests to produce high quality eggs is shown on the chart. The breaking strength of the shells of eggs produced on the quality egg producing ration is compared with the breaking strength of average eggs produced by hens fed on other rations considered very good from a nutrition standpoint and very popular with poultrymen. The quality egg producing mash developed at the Experiment Farm produced eggs which were stronger, shelled by from 13 to 30 per cent. Other improvements brought about by this mash were uniformity of yolk coloring, and improved taste and nutritive value of yolk and white.

The quality egg producing mash is particularly useful (1) for commercial poultrymen selling high quality eggs at a premium to exacting consumers, (2) operators of hen batteries and (3) for owners of backyard flocks

Hints for Homemakers

By Jane Rogers

SILVER, to look its best and be a credit to the hostess, must be gleaming and spotless. After polishing it carefully with a good silver polish and hot water, put it away in the individual cellophane envelopes, now on the market and made especially for holding silver. Tarnish is caused by chemical action when silver is exposed to air and moisture. These bags, which are made air-tight and moisture-proof, will prevent tarnishing and save a great deal of labor in the care of silverware.

A little soda added to peas and beans and other green vegetables while they are cooking will preserve their bright green coloring.

YOU CAN ESCAPE DENTAL DECAY

There are communities in the world which are almost dentally perfect. One of the most interesting of these is the remote little island of Tristan da Cunha in the south Atlantic Ocean, midway between Africa and South America. This is encouraging news to a world full of people with aching teeth, for it proves that it is possible, without any elaborate precautions, to have good, sound teeth, for obviously the islanders had no special knowledge of the subject that is kept from us. Too many people nowadays just sit back and resign themselves to tooth troubles as inescapable. As a matter of fact, most people could avoid toothache altogether, if they made use of the simple preventive measures now known to be practical—proper diet, cleanliness of teeth and regular dental examinations. Practically, you cannot afford not to prevent dental ills because "curing" them is so expensive. Of course, in the real sense of the word you can't cure dental decay at all for once a permanent tooth is lost it is gone forever.

Investigations of the dental conditions on this island, reported in the British Medical Journal, showed that the people's teeth were strong, regular and well-formed. The general health of the natives was also unusually good. All the people had exceptionally good teeth and 83 per cent of them had perfect mouths.

Diet Is Secret of Healthy Teeth. Knowing the close relation of diet and teeth, the scientists studied the islanders' diet. They found that it consisted chiefly of fish, potatoes, milk, eggs, and some vegetables such as cabbage and turnips, and that there was a striking absence of sugar and cereals.

The diet used was rich in calcium and phosphorus and vitamins, which are known to be the elements that produce healthy teeth. It was lacking in those foods that tend to cause diseased teeth. Therefore, the investigators came to the conclusion that the peculiar diet of these islanders was the only likely explanation for their excellent dental condition.

This is just one more bit of evidence proving that it is not enough just to take care of the outside of the teeth by keeping them clean. In order to have good teeth, we must also build and nourish them from the inside, by eating the right foods and avoiding those foods that tend to encourage decay.

This is one of a series of articles on "How to Have Attractive Teeth" released in cooperation with and approved by the public service committee of the Chicago Dental Society.

Aces Wipe Out Early Victory of Tigers

Take 4 Point Lead in Second Game Against the Grayslake Nine

Playing against the Grayslake Tigers who defeated them by a one point score in a game earlier in the season, the Antioch Aces continued their series of wins Sunday, outscoring their opponents by a four point lead.

Keulman, making four runs during the afternoon, was high scoring man in the game, and Oliver Hughes of the Aces and Faulkner of the Tigers, scored two runs each.

Duplicating their record of the previous week, the Aces outnumbered their hits with runs. The ball was cracked twelve times and thirteen scores made. The previous week, ten runs were made on eight hits.

Eight men were struck out by Down, pitcher for the Aces. Dietz and Dortege, pitchers for the Tigers, struck out 3 and 4 respectively.

FIREMEN TRIMMED BY MERCHANTS 21-2

Sheehan Pitches Without Hits for Four Innings; to Play Grayslake

Antioch Firemen received a severe trimming from the Merchants in a game last Monday at Nabers' field when Sheehan's "no-hit" pitching for 4 innings was a highlight of the playing. The score ended 21-2 in favor of the Merchants.

Sheehan replaced Campbell as pitcher for the Merchants after the latter had walked the first four men. Miller later replaced Sheehan. Olla Hughes, centerfield, turned his ankle sliding in to base, and had to be replaced by Ryan in the fifth inning. Hughes will probably be unable to play for the next three weeks.

A recent game played by the Merchants against the Grayslake Merchants on the opponents' field, resulted in a 6-0 score for the two teams in the sixth inning when the game was called because of darkness. The Merchants will play the Grayslake team at Nabers' field here tomorrow (Friday).

The lineup in the game between the merchants and the firemen was as follows:

SUPERIOR SOUPS

THE little steamboat on the Seine was loaded to the gunwales, and some frolicsome French youths started recklessly rock it. Nearer and nearer water rose to the danger level, each dip from side to side.

"Well," philosophically remarked a satiric old Frenchman, "at least we'll all drink soup together!"

Which may remind you that that was exactly what the French army was doing when it spoiled the plans which the German army had been maturing for forty-four years at the first battle of the Marne. The French soldier's regular ration consists largely of soup.

And that is the reason why the commercial canners of this country are adding so rapidly to the varieties of rich soups which they are offering to the public. It is true that we have no battle of the Marne to fight at present but we have just been through a distressing economic battle, and we need some good soup to soothe our nerves.

New Soups

The first soup that comes to mind in this connection is that new vegetable soup made of rich beef stock to which it would be a culinary crime to add any water. Just serve it from the can, and you would at home from the kettle, and no flavor will be lost because the can is sealed while cooking. Incidentally, this soup contains no less than fifteen crisp, tasty vegetables, and it is always cooked in small quantities just the way you do it at home.

Then there are twelve kinds, several of them new, of another brand of soups. These include vegetable soup, pepper pot soup, mutton broth, cream of asparagus soup, cream of celery soup, cream of green pea soup, cream of oyster soup, cream of tomato soup, and gumbo Creole. In these soups, too, the nourishing goodness is brewed in by slowly simmering the ingredients in small kettles. Nothing whatever has to be added to them. They come, properly seasoned, ready to heat and serve.

Home-Made Soups

But, if you prefer different soups and think that you can make soups as good as these at home, there's nothing in the world to prevent you from trying it. Here are some recipes for home-made soups which will help you to make such a comparison.

Lobster Chowder: Remove the tendons from the contents of a 6-ounce can of lobster, and shred. Add one cup of potato, diced small, one and one-half cups boiling water and one-half teaspoon salt, and boil until the potatoes are tender. Scald one quart milk with one sliced onion and two tablespoons butter, and season to taste with salt and pepper. Break up six Boston crackers and lay on top of the lobster and potatoes in a soup tureen, strain the onion out of the milk, and pour over. This serves four to five.

Half a cup of cream added at the last makes this soup still better.

Corn and Lettuce Soup: Sauté one cup shredded lettuce in two tablespoons butter until it starts to brown. Add the contents of an 8-ounce can of creamy corn, and cook gently for five minutes more. Add three cups scalded milk to one cup hot mashed potatoes, add 1/2 cup corn, and season to taste with salt and pepper. Blend with a little flour if you want the soup thicker. This recipe serves six.

Chilled Fruit Soups

But summer is on the way, and cold soups are quite the thing for the torrid months. Did you know that you can make soups of fruits, even of our national fruit, the red cherry? Here's the way to do that:

Red Cherry Soup: Mix two teaspoons cornstarch with two tablespoons cold water and add to the juice from a quart can of sour pitted cherries with one cup water, two tablespoons sugar and one tablespoon lemon juice. Cook until thickened, stirring to prevent lumping. Chill. Serve very cold with a few cherries garnish each cup. This serves six.

Red Raspberry Soup: Simmer together the juice from a quart can of red raspberries, two cups water, the juice of two oranges, one tablespoon sugar and one teaspoon minute tapioca, until the tapioca is very transparent. Chill. This serves six.

Save the Vitamins

This is the time of year when it is easiest to have the vitamins in our meals, but it is also the season when it is easiest to lose them, for careless cooking of fresh fruits and vegetables may "cook out" the precious vitamins. Particular care must be used in cooking the fruits and vegetables containing Vitamins A and C. A few of the most popular of these are: spinach, tomatoes, rhubarb, peaches, apples, apricots, prunes, asparagus, cabbage, green peas and cauliflower.

The most important thing to remember when cooking these foods is not to mix them with air. To avoid this, use a pressure cooker or a waterless cooker, rather than an open kettle. Be sure the butter used in cooking is fresh, for rancid fat speeds the oxidative destruction of Vitamin A; and don't use alkalis like soda in cooking for this hastens the destruction of the vitamins.

However, there is one excellent vitamin source about whose cooking you need not worry—fresh pasteurized milk which is not affected by cooking at ordinary temperatures, but retains all its rich supply of vitamins.

WHICH WOULD YOU CHOOSE?

If for some reason your diet were suddenly to be limited to two foods which two would you choose? There would probably be as many answers to that as there are people reading this question, but according to those who know, if you want to live and be healthy the only two foods that could even begin to do the job unaided are those two old friends, bread and milk. So says Dr. Henry C. Sherman of Columbia University and other men recognized as authorities on nutrition.

"Ain't Nature Grand"

They were seeing America first in the family automobile. Thanks to the wonderful variety of billboards, in travelling from Detroit to Ann Arbor they were able to see Niagara Falls, the Grand Canyon, the Eiffel Tower, the Mediterranean, the Gold on Gate, three camels and a de luxe steamship crossing the marshes, Pike's Peak and the headliners in a three-ring circus. Hungering for a bit of natural scenery, little sister looked up to the sky.

"Oh, see the pretty clouds," she cried.

"Them's not clouds," Bobby scoffed. "That's a sky writer, an' them clouds would spell dad's favorite shirts if it wasn't so windy."

One hour's breeze COSTS LESS THAN a cigarette

Sticky and hot . . . not a breath of air. But a fan soon stirs up a good gusty breeze. The electricity that brings you this comfort is cheap. It costs less than a third of a cent an hour to run a 10-inch fan in the average home served by the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois.

Fans are low-priced, too: Small sizes are now less than $2.50 at Public Service Stores and other LOCAL ELECTRICAL DEALERS.

Problem in Skin Care and Color SelectionEffects of Exposure Must Be Guarded Against;
Gradual Tan Best

To tan, or not to tan, is the question many a fair vacationist is asking herself this summer. The answer depends on the texture of her skin, her coloring and whether by tan she means a lovely bronze or a paraboloid red which peels and repeats itself intermittently throughout the summer.

There are blondes who tan beautifully and others who acquire a muddy, dingy color after a summer in the sun. Not all brunettes find a tan becoming. Before acquiring a suntan, the important thing is the skin's texture. These thin, fair, delicate and sensitive skins, should be kept out of the sun, unless they are properly protected with oils or creams, and then they should be exposed at only short intervals.

Burn Coarsens

A sensitive skin, which burns under the sun's rays, may be permanently marred by a single summer's burn. Nothing so coarsens the skin, discolors and roughens it as the sun. Witness the back of the neck of any man whose work keeps him in the sun during the summer months, and you will agree.

A little sun does not hurt many skins, and is proclaimed an actual benefit to those suffering from acne. The woman in search of a glorious coat of tan whether for her face, her back, her legs or all four, should avoid long-time exposure. A painless, even, and lovely tan cannot be acquired in a single day at the lake. Gradual exposure to the sun, from early summer, will immunize the individual to the sad effects which exposure has on those who are not accustomed to it.

The face which is to be tanned, should be cleansed with cream before and after exposure, and should be covered with an oil or a protective cream, following the cleansing. Never use soap and water on the face directly after being out in the sun or wind. Always apply cream first to soothe and soften the skin.

Change of Cosmetics

Once you have your suntan, remember that a skin two or three shades darker than the one you wore all winter, will not find cosmetics belonging to a fair skin, becoming. Choose a darker shade of powder, but don't select too dark a shade for that can be quite as unbecoming as powder which has that white look.

If you were very fair to begin with, and have added only a slight shade of color to your skin, choose a light cream colored powder. If you are a brunette, choose a dark cream, or one of those radiant coppery shades.

The girl who wears green and blues a great deal, the powder which is a blend of ochre and rose shades will often add new radiance.

Crimson or Orange

Lipsticks and rouges should also be governed by the new tan which as a general rule requires shades less pink and more orange. The purplish shades, so lovely on the fair blonde, are not good on a suntan complexion, and often they give the skin a sallow, lifeless appearance. Lipsticks and rouges which are either brilliant crimson or slightly orange, depending on the wearer's particular coloring, will be successful in summer. A double effort should be made to match the shades of the rouge and lip coloring, for the summer sun is adept in picking out flaws in colors.

Combinations

The suntanned complexion will have a new set of colors which can be worn. The woman whose skin is flattered by black will find that she must wear bright colors with it if she will avoid giving her skin a dirty, yellow cast.

White and not too delicate shades of pink and yellow and maize are lovely with suntan skins. Blue is often more difficult to wear since certain shades are inclined to reveal an unflattering ashy appearance if the generally, next to white, the most easily worn.

Non Smoked Cigarette

A workman threw away a good sized butt of a light cigarette. A brown leghorn hen instantly snatched at it, and fortunately got the unlighted end in her beak. It lodged there and at every attempt she would make to swallow it, it would smoke. She took puff after puff until the entire cigarette was smoked.—Farm Journal

Bride's Cake

Prepare the baking pans and collect the ingredients before starting to make this cake. Have ready a 12-inch and a 9-inch baking pan. Grease the pans well, line with letter paper, grease the paper and pour in this carefully prepared mixture:

2 cups butter
4½ cups sugar
4 cups pastry flour
¼ teaspoon salt
8 teaspoons baking powder
2 cups cornstarch
5 cups milk
2 teaspoons vanilla
2 teaspoons rosewater or almond extract

24 egg whites
Cream butter with sugar. Sift flour, baking powder and salt and add to creamed mixture. Dissolve cornstarch in milk and add flavorings. Beat smooth, fold in 24 egg whites, beaten until stiff. Bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees for one hour. Turn out of this onto a cake rack as soon as cakes are removed from oven. Remove the paper from the sides and bottom of the cakes and place cakes to cool. Ice the larger layer with a white icing, add will then be ready for an ornamental icing. Serves fifty.

SUNDAY DINNER
SUGGESTIONS

By ANN PAGE

NOW that school is out and boys and girls have all day to play in the sun and get up big appetites, it is time for mother to plan ways to spare herself. Sun suits, overalls and play suits adapted to such games as "cops and robbers" or "cowboys and Indians" simplify the laundry problem and simple, wholesome meals can be easily and quickly prepared. Let shelling peas, snapping beans, hulling strawberries or pitting cherries be their summer "homework."

Many vegetables are now home-grown including spinach, peas, beans, carrots and cabbage. Garden lettuce is tender and homegrown berries are fragrant, firm and sweet.

In addition to fruits, there are many delicious and healthful desserts which can be quickly prepared including gelatin, cornstarch and "poca puddings and egg custards."

Summer Time Is
"Reducing Time"

Lecturing before women's groups in the Chicago area, Miss Eleanor Rhoads, nutritionist of the Milk Foundation, Incorporated, is reminding women that "summertime is reducing time" because in the summer the appetite is naturally less and the foods that are desired are the cooling, "reducing" ones such as fresh milk, fruits and vegetables which are conveniently low in calories or heat-producing elements.

A point Miss Rhoads is stressing is the necessity for maintaining a balanced diet when reducing just as at any other time. She lists these foods as the indispensable in the daily reducing diet: One quart of milk for calcium, vitamin A and protein; six servings of vegetables and fruits for vitamins and minerals; one serving of lean meat for protein; one serving of eggs for protein, vitamin A and iron; and not less than one-half ounce of butter, for vitamin A.

Another suggestion made by Miss Rhoads is that now with the longer days it is easier for busy women to find time to do their exercises, which need not be exhausting ones, as latest information indicates that they can well be built around stretching movements.

Food Excesses Cause
Most Vacation Ills

Neither accidents on land, water or air, overexertion, exercise, nor severe sunburn, is the cause of the most illness during vacation time. Is the surprising information appearing in a recent issue of Hygeia, the magazine issued by the American Medical Association. On the contrary, the most ordinary, everyday activity of life—eating—is the cause of the most illness. "Fully 80 per cent of the patients treated by country doctors during the vacation period have simple cases of

Food Has Played Important Role
In George M. Cohan's Success

Mr. Cohan cuts his favorite chocolate cake for members of his cast at one of the after-matinee "sweet snack" parties.

Chocolate Cake Leads to
Tale of Near Tragedy
In Early Days

By Mabel Love

All the stories which have been written about George M. Cohan were placed end on end they would probably reach from one end of Broadway to the other.

He has, in the vernacular of the newspaper world been "done" from every angle, that is except one, and that angle concerns a chocolate cake.

Seated in his dressing room, Mr. Cohan who recently returned to the footlights in "Pigeons and People", a current Broadway success, startled his interviewer by reaching into a cabinet and withdrawing a delicious looking cake, covered with thick chocolate icing.

"A member of the cast made it from one of Mr. Cohan's favorite recipes," he said smiling. "It's a great food and at one stage of my life I had only reached for something like this—" and then came a brand new story which revealed that early in his career Cohan was almost lost to the stage forever.

It came about very suddenly and his doctors were frankly puzzled until finally one, versed in the ways of the handsome young chap who had danced and sung his way into the heart of a nation, put a point blank question to his patient.

"George," he said, "how much have you been eating? And then came the solution."

"I can't be bothered eating all the time doc. There's too much work to be done around here. I just sort of eat when I get the time and when I don't have the time, well I just don't eat that's all."

And so the doctor discovered that the world had almost lost one of her best loved sons because he was literally starving to death.

"I took a terrible verbal beating and learned a lot about food," said Cohan. "I never knew before that harmful unregulated dieting could lead to tuberculosis and since then I have been a foe of any dietary program that calls for eliminating the necessary foods."

Cohan knows the value of a "sweet snack" as an energizer as on matinee days a repeat is always served behind the scenes. One day it will be tea and cookies, another time milk and chocolate cake, but always something which includes a generous allotment of sugar, recognized by science as nature's greatest energy food.

That was the reason for the chocolate cake and with the gracious permission of Mrs. Cohan, you may try it yourself.

Cohan Chocolate Cake

¼ cup shortening
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
1 cup milk
2 tps. baking powder
1 cup sugar
1 tsp. vanilla extract
¾ cup pastry flour
¼ cup salt

Cream shortening; add sugar, a little at a time, beating until light; add beaten yolks and flavoring; add flour, sifted with salt and baking powder alternately with milk. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Bake in three greased layer cake pans in moderate oven at 375 degrees F. about 20 minutes. Spread filling thickly between layers and cover top and sides with icing.

gastric upset caused by food excesses and food foolishness," says the author of this article.

Blame for this is assigned to the fact that, into their brief precious vacations people try to squeeze the greatest possible amount of pleasure—like eating all their favorite dinners on one night.

The article warns against leaving common sense behind when on a holiday, urging that vacationists remember to have nutritious meals, eaten at regular periods, during the holiday period as at any other time. Nutritious meals are generally recognized as being those built around the protective foods, fresh milk, fruits and vegetables.

Dividend Printing

There is one kind of printing that you want—printing that pays a dividend on the investment.

A letterhead with right sort of type properly balanced is a real business asset. It wins the approval of the person receiving your letter, and while he is in this frame of mind your letter is read.

The same reasoning applies to any other job of printing. Neatness, the right weight and kind of paper, the color of the ink, the selection of the type, all play an important part in the production of dividend printing.

We are equipped to give you that kind of printing. Let us prove it to you.

Faster Air Service Offered Antioch Thru Connections with City

Air mail-passenger plane times from Antioch to scores of cities in the Great Lakes area, Middle West, Rocky Mountain and Pacific Coast regions and to points in the Southwest have been radically reduced through inauguration of service with three-mile-a-minute multi-motored passenger-mail-express planes on the New York, Cleveland, Toledo, Chicago, Des Moines, Omaha, Cheyenne, Salt Lake City, Pacific Coast route of United Air Lines. Connections from Antioch are made with this new fast service at Chicago Municipal Airport.

The new planes carrying the mail, as well as passengers and express, are fifty miles an hour faster than equipment previously used, and time required for air mail and passenger travel from this city to many cities has been cut one-third from the previous schedules.

Illustrative of the additional time savings are schedules calling for transportation of mail between the Atlantic and Pacific with a loss of only one-half of one business day. One of the three-mile-a-minute airplanes which United Air Lines uses in this new fast service was chosen by the World's Fair in Chicago for exhibit in the Travel and Transport Building as the latest example of airplane design and construction.
